

Technical Support

EWI Consultants Ltd

'Support when you need it'

Providing support for your business, when you need it most. Being able to cope with spikes in the demand for technical information can put companies under undue pressure, and having a greater control of your overheads is important within an industry well known for its commercial fluctuations. EWI Consultants Ltd offer a range of technical support services which can be engaged on a long-term or single-use basis.

Outsourcing specific technical requirements can be difficult within the insulation industry as specific knowledge and experience is required. With 35 years of experience covering most of the technical support services within the insulation and render sector, our services can be used to help utilise the corporate branding of your own company if required.

Technical Support Services:

- Specification writing.
- U Value calculations.
- Condensation risk analysis.
- 2D detail drawings.
- Technical blog writing.
- Technical reports.
- Desktop studies.
- Training support.

info@ewiconsultants.co.uk

www.ewiconsultants.co.uk

07743 - 646447